Eltrude Elliott Hall and her family have lived in western Kansas for many years. It is with gratitude and affection that she established a fund in memory of her brothers at the Western Kansas Community Foundation. Both Dorsey and Merton had connections to western Kansas and were born in Haskell County. Each had varied interests in Sublette and the nearby area for much of their lives.

Dorsey lived in Sublette and Garden City the majority of his life and Merton in Sublette and Tacoma, Washington. Both were landowners in Haskell County and they were always enthusiastic about enhancing the community where they were active. They were especially interested in the educational and cultural advancement of their home area.

Dorsey and his wife, Marjorie, have long supported the WKCF and Merton would be delighted to know the many aspects the Foundation has to reach out to so many Kansans throughout this region.
